2017 INFLATABLES

PROVEN QUALITY, RENOWNED PERFORMANCE

NRS inflatable boats have come a long way since the first NRS Otter rolled off the production line in 1983. With continued advances in materials, design and manufacturing, we've created a line of rafts, catarafts, kayaks and stand up paddle boards as exciting and diverse as the world's waters and those compelled to explore them.

As paddlesports have evolved over the years, so has inflatable boat technology. Since its founding in 1972, NRS has established itself as a leading innovator in all categories of paddling gear. Today, our boat designs employ the latest in materials, engineering and production methods, along with the experience we've gained from decades on the water.

THE LOST ART OF GOING SLOW

The alarm rings. You shower, dress, pour your coffee in a travel mug and start the morning commute. You listen to the news on the way to work and check your email when you get there. Text messages, instant messages, social media feeds—it's nonstop all day. By the time you get home, your brain is fried. Sound familiar?

Contrast that with a day on the river. You roll out of bed when the first rays hit your tent, put some coffee on the stove and watch the canyon come alive. After a couple of cups, a plate of eggs and your morning meditation on the groover, it's time to pack up the gear, rig up the boat and shove off for another day of floating and fun in the sun.

In today's busy world it's essential to slow down, be patient and focus on what's important. That's what we do when we're on the river, and that's how we build boats at NRS. There are easier ways, there are faster ways, but there's no better way to build rafts and catarafts than ours: by hand.

Every NRS Pennel Orca raft and cataraft is handmade by the craftsmen in our Tecate, Mexico factory. Artisan boat builders—some of whom have been with our company for more than 25 years—cut each panel and glue every seam the old-fashioned way, seeking perfection down to the smallest detail.

A typical NRS raft takes 55 hours to build. But when you consider that these boats are made to help us slow down, relax and recharge—and to last for a lifetime—we don't see any reason to rush.

NRS FRAMES

At NRS we've been strapping frames to boats (or tying, before we created the NRS Strap) since we started business in 1972. After trying every kind of frame concept and coupling mechanism out there, we decided to design something better. Based on the versatility of our patented LoPro™ fitting, we build the world's strongest, most adaptable and most adjustable raft frames. No matter what kind of boat you have, or how you like to boat, the NRS frame system helps you create your ultimate setup. Every NRS frame is hand built by expert craftsmen right here in Moscow, Idaho.

Adaptable and Adjustable

Other manufacturers' frame systems are essentially rigid—once you buy a frame, you're locked in. If you get a bigger cooler that doesn't fit, well, too bad. The NRS frame system consists of interchangeable parts that securely connect with our LoPro fitting. Need room for a bigger cooler? Just loosen the LoPros and adjust the crossbar. You can also adjust the cockpit for different rowers and add on dozens of accessories to perfectly dial in your setup.

Choosing Your NRS Frame

The adaptable NRS frame system offers a wide variety of options to help you create the perfect frame for your boat. When choosing a frame, it's important to consider not only the size and capacity of your raft or cataraft, but also the kind of boating you plan to do (day, multiday, overnight or fishing trips) and the cargo (passengers and gear) you expect to carry. At nrs.com, we provide resources to help you through the process, and our knowledgeable staff is always standing by to help. We can also point you to a local dealer who will provide you with expert in-person service.

RAFT FRAMES

Whether you favor multiday runs down large-volume rivers, wilderness overnights, or adrenaline-fueled day runs on your local whitewater stretch, the adaptable NRS frame system lets you customize the ideal rig for your style of boating. When designing your frame, think about what kind of boating you want to do, and about the gear and passengers you'll need to carry. Begin with the basics and add on features to arrive at the ultimate package.

We've predesigned these frame packages to help you get started.

FISHING FRAMES

Rafts help you get to places where other boats can't go, where the fish are hungry and the water's never crowded. We've spent years working with professional guides to develop and refine the ultimate fishing frames for rafts and catarafts. We start with the basics, then offer a huge range of accessories to help you design your dream setup.

CAT FISH FRAME

A cataraft makes a great fishing platform for swiftwater or flatwater angling, and the Cat Fish is the ideal fishing frame. CATARACT OAR SHAFTS

Since 1986, Cataract oar shafts have been the top choice for boaters looking for a stronger, lighter and more responsive oar. These maintenance-free fiberglass/carbon shafts weigh less than aluminum, and they're twice as strong. The SGG model flexes through the first part of your stroke, much like a wooden oar. Then the shaft rebounds for strong, whip-like action that translates more of your muscle energy into the water. The 9', 9.5' and 10' lengths are available with a factory rope wrap. The rope protects the shaft and helps eliminate some of the noise of rowing, which you'll appreciate even if you're not fishing. SGX shafts are 33% stiffer for larger, heavier boats. Cataract, Carlisle, and 1-5/8" shank Sawyer blades fit these shafts.

Please note: Lengths listed are the lengths of the entire oar (shaft and blade).
